Big brother newspeak

Editors of the Times:

Nixon was proclaimed "prince of peace" for Christmas bombings, for which Kissinger was awarded half of a Nobel Peace Prize. His victorious victim declined the other half. Begin and Sadat, lifelong warlords, split the prize for refurbishing Carter's image at Camp David. Jimmy, conspicuous sponsor of the most offensive violators of human rights, won the "nonviolent peace prize" on Jan. 14.

Bill Fulbright, head of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee during the gory days, registered as a foreign agent. Bill Colby, promoted to DCI for directing mass assassinations, stepped down and registered as a foreign agent. Bill Carter, whose new mansion hosts visiting chiefs of state, denied that he was a foreign agent.

A billion dollars was invested to pipe in unlimited natural gas. When uppity Third Worlders south of the border insisted on a fair market price, Schlesinger abruptly canceled the deal while Carter finally realized the old pipe dream of deregulating prices. Christmas greetings from the city of Palo Alto proclaimed that our gas bill was up "two or three times" and that it is our fault for not phoning the hotline to be instructed to turn down thermostats.

Striking bank workers in Iran, as Ali Baba, entered a den of thieves and uncovered hidden jars of oil. Nearly 200 of the royal family had fled for their lives with billions in last-minute loot reminiscent of our bygone Saigon allies. A brother-in-law, an additional $223 million; the shah's personal physician, $270 million; the lady's doctor, a measly $37 million — recorded by just one bank.

A year ago our first family whimsically knelt at the Peacock Throne in Tehran. This year Jimmy celebrated opening of the soda pop market for one of his sponsors by recognizing China. Then he darted down to Guadaloupe for a briefing on British arms sales to China for "defense." The shah went skiing. On New Year's Day The New York Times got official word that "we are prepared, if necessary, to go down in flames with the shah." Less mad men have kindly advised a temporary foreign vacation. Newspeak.

KGO Radio, Jim Eason to Art Cherry, 1.24.79

"I guarantee you..this is the last time I will ever write you, and I further guarantee you...I will never open any mail from you in the future. You really need help!

Any further correspondence from you will go into the trash can, unopened, so save the postage. Perhaps apply the .13¢ toward professional help."

LETTER FROM ART CHERRY TO MAE, 1.27.79

"Eason dwelt fulltime on the Iranian students and lynch mobs for NINE DAYS. Never ever in my misspent life have I ever kow-towed to a bully, no matter what his superior clout. No forgiving with Eason; not with payrollers of genocide and extermination of humankind. No way."

Art Cherry passed away, just after midnight, 1:00 am.m. Jan.28,1979.

THE FOREIGN STUDENTS HARD TO KEEP TRACK OF
S.F. Chronicle, Feb.1,1979 "FOREIGN" Students.

300,000 to 500,000 students in USA.

50,000 Iranian students in USA.

244,000 enrolled foreigners, incomplete lists, "missing students", cant locate.

The point of provocateurs in Beverly Hills is what Art was calling to KGO about. The call for "vigilantes," private police in the USA before investigating can become serious. TV demonstrations, a la SLA fire and Nazi Reichstag (before TV days) may increase if the media, radio, and TV are not to examine first..then display.

1.18.79 is a typical Art Cherry letter to the Palo Alto Times. Bravo Art!!!
