PROJECT PAPERCLIP

Clarence Lasby
Atheneum Press, NY 1971

Page 40. V-2 rockets brought from Germany to USA.

"No more spirited an individual was involved in the exploitation enterprise than Major Robert Staver, 28 year old mechanical engineer from Stanford University."

Page 42-43. Tells of Staver's delight with rocket "outer station".

"They would construct an 'outer station', useful for astronomers. It would be a terrible thing, a weapon which will enable the first country to achieve this undertaking to rule the world. The focusing of this reflector upon any living persons would kill them immediately. Ocean waters could be turned to steam. Forest instantly kindled." Staver, "impressed", brought the scientists directly to the USA.

ALTERNATIVE 3

Pages 39-46. Tells of car crash of Sir William Ballantine.

He worked with NASA, famous astronomer, in Houston, Texas, 1957.

Recorded tapes of orders for a "hot job" on him.

"Freak SKID Kills Scientist". Car crash. Extensive burns. Body covered.

Page 20 "Sir William Ballantine's freakish death was mirrored by that of an aerospace professor called Peterson near Stanford U., Palo Alto, Calif. Murder outside London, England. Plans arranged beneath "ice of the Arctic" where meetings held. Death on Feb. 6, 1977.

GEHLEN, SPY OF THE CENTURY, Random House, N.Y. 1971

Page 51. Plans for Russia after WWII, when Germany won, were to make "50 million sub humans. Only basic education and agricultural training with a view to turning them into a nation of slaves".

Some 40 million Soviet citizens would need to be eliminated in the proposed "colonial" regions, by "natural means", famine."

Two solutions, slave labor, and murder.

ALTERNATIVE 3

Page 13. "NASA, USA, along with USSR Space programs combined, plan to classify people into two categories: those who are picked as individuals and those who merely form part of a 'batch consignment'. Their treatment "provides the greatest cause for outrage." Purpose of mind control experiments to make future slaves.

RATIONALIZATION FOR THIS

Too many people. Too much pollution. Select few must plan ahead.
